ANOTHER ENLARGEMENT.

This morning we present the GAZETTE o its readers enlarged by by four full olumns, making it by considerable odds he largest daily newspaper in the Comconwealth. This is the third time we ave increased its dimensions during the ast eighteen months. On each of the revious occasions we felt we were eeting the utmost demands the favor f the public would lay upon us; but in ach of those instances we were happily disappointed. The meeting of ongress and the State Legislature will oon be upon us, and we foresaw that ith only our former amount of space e could not do the complete justice we esired both to our readers and to our dvertising customers. Necessity was id on us to obtain more room, and that [illegible] accomplished.

We do [illegible] that this last enrgement shall be permanent; only that shall remain as long as pressure upon ir advertising columns continues, which e hope will be always.

In connection with this enlargement e have arranged for special corresondence by mail and telegraph from 'ashington; and shall perfect a like rangement at Harrisburg before the ening of the next Legislature. In all her particulars it is our intention not endeavor to make the largest possible cuniary profit out of the GAZETTE, t to make it fitly represent the liberity, progress, wants and interests of is community.

Notwithstanding this augmentation of ace and matter the GAZETTE will be rnished at the old rates—which are $8 year instead of $12, as charged by our mpetitors, and 3 cents a copy instead 5 cents, as charged by them. Hence, will be seen that the GAZETTE is ma- rially larger than any other newspaper the city, and by large odds the cheap- . It will be our aim to make it t only the largest and cheapest, but, addition, the best of the journals published here.

THE CABLE DISPATCHES in respect to lian affairs are meagre, and not altoher consistent or intelligible. It is ted that the proposition for submitting whole question to a vote of the peo- of the Papal Provinces proceeded ultaneously from France, Prussia d Italy. This statement is coupled th another statement to the effect that ussia is entirely neutral. Still aner statement is to the effect that the posed election has actually been held, l had resulted in Rome, at least, in a ge majority in favor of Italy. This uld imply that the proposition had n made, accepted, and carried into cution; which may be true, but is tainly improbable, and does not comt with previous accounts.

If this plan has been carried into effect, even conjointly proposed by the ee powers, it would seem most probathat a tacit understanding has exist- between them all along, and that tain diplomatic protestations and litary movements have been made onto save appearances. This view will corroborated if it shall appear that ance either suggested or consented to etermination of the whole controver- by popular vote, and demanded only t Italy should expel GARIBALDI. Nay, it would be natural conclude that Garibaldi was put forrd by French connivance to make a vement against the Pope, in order to e France an excuse, under a plea of cessity, and so making an end of the onic embroilment in the Peninsula. owever, it will not do to trust to inferces from what these cable dispatches m to imply. It will be safer to await re perfect disclosures.

LAST YEAR'S RAILROAD COMMITTEE.

MR. PENNIMAN: I see that Mr. GLASS s a letter in the GAZETTE, in which refers to the passage of the Railroad l in the House last winter, as evidence at he had constituted the Railroad mmittee favorably to liberal railroad gislation. The truth is the bill referred was never in the Railroad Committee, t was read in place and smuggled to Judiciary Committee, which Committee reported it favorably to the use. The only Free Railroad legisla- referred to the Railroad Committee there till the end of the session, or, least, till there was not time to give it atutory effect.

On the Free Railroad bill, when it was fore the House, the members of the ilroad Committee voted thus:

AYES—McKee, Harbison, Stumbaugh, mmell, Wilson, Miller, Jenks—7.

NOES—Kerns, (chairman) Cameron, umphrey, Marks, Stedman, Waddell, att, Subers, Josephs, Koon—10.

ABSENT OR NOT VOTING—Whawn, avis, Meckling, Pillow—4.

So far as an inference can be drawn m this vote, the Committee was clear against a Free Railroad Law.

A MEMBER.

MR. WM. HUNTER, of the firm of ommel and Hunter, coal men, in Philelphia, met with a shocking accident New York, the other day, resulting, is supposed in instant death. He was the Fifth Avenue Hotel and at ten clock went to his room, when, it is supsed from the position of the furniture, at he got on a rocking chair to open e upper sash of the window, that the air tilted over with him and he fracred his skull. At least his window as broken and his body found on the de walk. Mr. Hunter was an honorae merchant and a true and accomished gentleman, and his unhappy eath has cast a gloom on the mercantile ommunity of Philadelphia.

IT IS very pleasant to hear of another merican favorite having made a sention in European musical circles. If e keep on producing such vocalists as atti and Kellogg, and sending them road with a world wide reputation rned at home, we will soon be able to ke our stand as a power in music as ell as in war and diplomacy. In spite f the adverse criticisims of some hyperritical anti-American English reviews, very actor or singer, or pianist that we end to England with a first rate reputation, loses none of it and achieves triumph and success.

A YOUNG woman in Armstrong county as developed wonderful powers as a acer. In a recent race against time she ade 2¼ miles in seventeen minutes, and he now challenges all Clarion county o produce her equal in a race of from ne to five miles, at twenty dollars a ide, and for the championship. What he next neat thing in championships vill be, there is no saying, but we bid air to soon become a whole nation of hampions and ex-champions.

EDITORIAL GLEANINGS.

THE Boston Transcript objects to the publication of the names of ladies and gentlemen whenever they appear in full dress at party or place of public amusement in that city. The practice is certainly a very obnoxious one, and prevails to a limited extent in other places than Boston. It is a sort of imitation of the toady ism of the London morning Post, and is a direct assault on that privacy which is every citizens right and every lady's prerogative.

THE feeling of depression in financial circles was shown on Friday in New York at a sale of valuable oil paintings. Some renowned and excellent pictures could not be made to bring more than two-thirds of what they easily got last year, and none of them would bring high prices, some going at ridiculously small figures. If retrenchment is the order of the day, the business of the country will, with few exceptions, rally and establish itself on a firmer basis.

ON THURSDAY LAST two bodies were found floating at the India Bridge, Providence, R. I. One of them was identified as that of Daniel Shay, the other was unrecognized. A little later still another body, that of a fireman on a Bristol steamer, was found floating at the same place. If the finding goes on at this rate, that bridge will win an unenviable reputation.

THE European correspondent of the Philadelphia Press demeans himself, and the paper is demeaned, by speaking of Queen Victoria as Mrs. Brown. A vulgar comic English publication has made such low attempts at fun, its whole capital, and has succeeded in getting up a ribald sort of a reputation, but that the Press should descend to any thing of the kind is unnecessary and disreputable.

THE latest news from the seat of the rebellion in Peru is not encouraging. The Government has sent large bodies of troops to Islay, and President Prado has himself joined the army, leaving the Government in the hands of La Puerta. Canseco, the rebel chief, is still, however, in full possession of Arequippa.

ANOTHER and very similar affair took place in the Repplier House, in Ashland, Pa. Mr. George Shafer, baggage master on the Ashland Rail Road, leaned out of the window to close the shutters, lost his balance and fell from the fourth story to the pavement, where he was found in a dying condition in the morning.

THE Lord Rosse of telescopic and astronomical celebrity, died in his 68th year last week. With Faraday and Rosse both gone, science is left with a vacum which, in spite of the abhorrence of nature, is not likly to be soon filled.

THE town clock in New Brunswick the other evening, tried to strike eleven and succeeded in striking 884 times in 33 minutes, but who counted is not stated. Some people thought it was fire, some thought it was boys, while others thought it was only Lucifer.

AN OLD MAID of more than thirty summers, ran off with two married men at once last week from Lynchburg, Va. The one found out and informed on the other, and both were sent home to their wives, leaving the single lady desolate.

PITTSBURGH is beaten at last in the item of strawberry patches, there being one of one hundred and thirty acres in extent in California, and another hundred acres are to be added in the spring.

GEN. PETER LYLE, the recently elected Democratic Sheriff of Philadelpoia county, was thrown from his carriage on Friday, and had his leg badly fractured.

LARGE veins of bituminous brown coal, which is so common in parts of Continental Europe, have been found near San Antonio, Texas.

CHARLES LEVER is said to be the Cornelius O'Dowd of Blackwood; it is not often that a man twice achieves celebrity in the literary world.

A DEMOCRATIC candidate in Milwaukee is named Augustus Caeser Dodge Rather an undignified way for Augustus Caesar to behave.

TO-DAY the President commences to write his annual message. He is better at writing such documents than righting the country.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

—The Virginia Convention, ordered by General Schofield to meet on the 3d proximo, is of the following complexion: Radicals, seventy; Conservatives, thirty-five. Of the Radicals twenty-five are negroes.

—The National debt statement—to be out to-day—will show little or no diminution in the aggregate, owing to the large army payments and unusually light receipts.

—It is stated the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia will to-day render a decision sustaining Judge Fisher in his dismissal from the bar of Counsellor Bradly, for improper conduct during the trial of the Surratt case.

—H. J. Shuttleworth, banker, in Buffalo, New York, has suspended, in consequence of the absconding of a large cattle dealer named Farthing, to whom he had made advances to the amount of about $35,000.

—The Treasury Department announces that none of the counterfeit Seven-Thirties were issued previous to August first, and persons holding bonds of a prior date are therefore relieved from any fear that they are not genuine.

—General Hancock, it is stated, will assume command of the Fifth Military District this week.

The Mansion House Homicide.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: The faculty of surgeons seems to be very much puzzled to decide whether the man was killed by the blow in front or the blow in the rear. In other words, whether the man who struck him or the floor on which he fell is responsible for his death. The jury were so much befogged by the learned discussion that they were unable to render a verdict one way or the other. It reminds me of the case before a Justice of the Peace, who, after hearing both sides, declared the case to be "so higelty pickelty that the d—l couldn't decide."

Some years ago, two men quarreled in a tavern, after having drank some beer on an empty stomach. One of them cut the other with a knife, making an opening in the stomach and letting the beer run into the cavity of the abdomen. The man died, and a post mortem examination revealed the fact that the beer caused inflammation of the peritoneum, of which he died. The question was raised whether it was the wound or the beer that killed the man. Learned physicians were called and decided that it was the beer, and the man charged with the murder was acquitted! Now in the present case, if the man had not been knocked down he would not have been killed by falling on the floor. In the other, the beer would not have caused death without the cut in the stomach. In both cases death ensued at the hands of the parties inflicting the wounds. In both cases the guilt or innocence must be determined by the quo animo.

No wonder that the testimony of doctors is treated so generally with contemptuous ridicule in our courts. A. R.

The State Treasurership.—My attention has been directed to an article in last Sunday's Leader, in reference to the candidates for the State Treasurership, in which it is stated that I am "recognized and spoken of at Harrisburg and Philadelphia as a candidate," &c. I desire to say that I am not now, and never have been, a candidate for that position, nor has Mr. Connell ever intimated to me a desire that I should be.

ITALY.

THE PROPOSITION TO SETTLE THE ROMAN QUESTION BY A VOTE OF THE PEOPLE.

LONDON, November 4.—Noon.—It now seems that the proposition to settle the Roman question by submission to a popular vote of the Papal provinces was not suggested by Napoleon, but was the spontaneous proposition of the Italian, Prussian and French governments.

THE ITALIAN ADVANCE AND FRENCH DISAPPROVAL.

PARIS, Nov. 4—Noon.—The Moniteur contains an authoritative article, asserting that on the first of November M. Monstier despatched a note to the French Charge D Affairs, at Florence, in which he said the Italian advance into Papal territory was a violation of the law and treaty. "The Emperor Napoleon," M. Monstier continues, "will not approve it by word or silence, and asks an explanation of Italy."

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS—PAPAL FORCES TO ASSUME THE OFFENSIVE.

There are only two French regiments in Rome. Large bodies of troops are continually leaving Toulon for Civita Vecchia. The Papal force will assume the offensive immediately.

THE PEOPLE OF ROME VOTE FOR ITALY.

LONDON, Nov. 3—P. M.—Late dispatches received from Florence state that the vote of the towns in the Province of Rome was unanimous for Italy.

NAPOLEON WILL WITHDRAW IF GARIBALDI IS EXPELLED.

It is now reported in Florence that the Emperor Napoleon requires King Victor Emanuel to expel Garibaldi. If that is done, he (Napoleon) will withdraw.

ENGLAND.

THE ABYSINIAN EXPEDITION.

LONDON, November 4.—Dispatches by the Red Sea cable announce that the war vessels and transports with troops on board, forming the first squadron of the Abysinian expedition, have left Aden for the coast of Abysinia. Ismael Pasha, Viceroy of Egypt, has offered his assistance to England and has dispatched a corps of native troops to Abysinia to join the British expedition.

FENIAN ALARM NOT SUBSIDED.

LIVERPOOL, November 4.—The alarm about the Fenians in this city does not subside. Troops have been sent here and others are arriving. Sir Alfred Horsford, who was active and efficient in suppressing the outbreak in the South of Ireland, is in command of the military forces.

PROBABLE FATE OF THOSE CONDEMNED.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 4.—It is regarded probable that all the prisoners who have been tried and condemned to death before the Special Commission here will have their sentence commuted, except the three most prominent ones, Allen, Gould and Larkin, who are shown, by the evidence, to be the actual murderers of policeman Pratte.

THE TRIALS AT DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, November 4.—The Nation and Irishman newspapers declare the action of the Special Commission, in refusing to give General Warren a mixed jury, is a casus belli. When arraigned for trial to-day before the Commission, General Farrilo entered a plea of guilty. The case of General Nagle has been postponed. The prisoners Costello and Halpin are to-day on trial.

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT DECEASED.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Evening.—Edward James, member of Parliament for Manchester, died to-day.

QUEENSTOWN, November 4.—The steamer Manhattan, from New York, arrived this morning.

LONDONDERRY, November 4—Evening. The steamship Moravian, from Quebec, touched at Moville to-day.

RUSSIA.

JOINT NOTE ON THE CRETAN QUESTION.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 4.—The Journal de St. Petersburg prints the official copy of the note from Russia, France, Prussia and Italy, to the Sultan of Turkey, on the Eastern question. After rehearsing the diplomatic representations which have from time to time been made to the Sublime Porte by the European powers, jointly or singly, in favor of granting the demands of the Cretans, and for a general amelioration of the condition of the Christians in the Ottoman Empire, all of which seem to have failed to make any impression, the note declares the Great Powers will hold the Sultan answerable for rejecting their advice and responsible for whatever consequences may follow.

DENMARK.

REPORTED SALE OF DANISH POSSESSIONS.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 4.—The Island of St. Croix is not included in the reported sale of Danish possessions in the West Indies to the United States.

NEW YORK.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 4, 1867.

STEAMSHIP LINE DISCONTINUED.

The New York and Havre steamship Directors to-day resolved to discontinue their line and sell their steamers. The Company find it impossible to compete with the French steamers, owing to the want of Government subsidy. This will reduce the number of American steamers plying to European ports. To the Atlantic and Baltic or Bremen line, the opposition to the present management of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, are out in a card, stating their reasons for dissatisfaction with the manner in which the affairs of the Company are managed.

THE ELECTION—BETTING.

Very little business will be done tomorrow, owing to the State election. The excitement is intense and an immense amount of money is staked on the result.

It is probable the vote will be the heaviest ever cast. A Democratic majority of upwards of fifty-five thousand is predicted in the city, and the members of that party generally seem confident of carrying the State. The Republicans are less confident of success, but still look for victory. The struggle between the Tammany and Mozart Hall organizations and the Republicans for county officers is likely to be close.

PITTSBURGH POSTOFFICE EMBEZZLER.

The examination in the case of Thompson alias Alfred Welsh, accused of embezzling a check for $1,100 from the Pittsburgh postoffice, has been adjourned till Wednesday and the accused committed in default of $2,000 bail.

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The business of the Central Pacific Railroad, with nearly one hundred miles operated, was as follows: gross earnings, $212,179; operating expenses, $38,366; net earnings, $173,813. In consequence of the abundance of freight offering, the price of wagon transportation has advanced to three cents per pound.

GARIBALDIAN DEMONSTRATION.

Propellor Foundered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DUNKIRK, Nov. 4.—The propellor Acme, belonging to the Western Transportation Company, foundered and sunk twenty miles off Dunkirk, this morning. All her hands were saved. One of her boats was picked up by a small boat of the Revenue Cutter Commodore Perry. The other boat, containing Captain Nixon and nine men, has also arrived here. The Mate of the Acme says she filled with water in about one hour after they abandoned her. She was loaded with beef and flour, bound for Buffalo.

Tornado on Lake Erie—Great Damage—Loss of Life.

BUFFALO, Nov. 4.—There was a terrible tornado on the Lake last night. Several vessels were blown ashore and much damage done. Two men belonging to the bark P. S. Marsh were blown overboard and drowned. One of them, named Cyrus Gates, belonged to Indiana, the other, Frederick Pierce, shipped from Milwaukee, but his residence is unknown.

Terrific Gale at Rochester, N. Y.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROCHESTER, November 4.—A terrific gale in this vicinity last night did considerable damage to property. A man named John Ortner was instantly killed on Scranton street by a wall of grapery being blown upon him. One of the walls of the new State Arsenal building was blown down, and several other buildings damaged by the gale.

Heavy Hotel Robbery.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, November 4.—Captain Dan. Able's room, at the Southern Hotel, was robbed on Saturday night of a costly gold watch and chain, and papers, notes, &c., representing about ten thousand dollars. No clue to the robber.

Philadelphia Farragut Association.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The Farragut Association met to-night. The Secretary has received favorable reports from Congressmen Randall, O'Neil, Myers and Kelly, and prominent officers of the Navy.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams commenced an engagement at the Opera House last night, where the "Fairy Circle" was presented to a large and fashionable audience. Barney and his wife have long been favorites in Pittsburgh, and their reputation is so well established that we can say nothing that would affect it in the least. Suffice it to say that the piece, which is one of the best, was played in their usual satisfactory manner, and they could not have been better supported than they were last night. The announcement that Barney Williams and his wife are on the boards, is enough to fill any place of amusement in the United States, and persons who wish to be accommodated with seats had better secure them early.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—Johnny Hart, the celebrated and popular delineator of negro characters, makes one of the many attractions at the Varieties this week. The appearance of Johnny's name on the bills is a sure indication of a crowded house in Pittsburgh, and it will doubtless be a profitable week to the managers. The usual amount of other attractions will be presented. "Variety is the spice of life," and at Trimble's is the place to find it.

SECOND EDITION.

THREE O'CLOCK A. M.

WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 4, 1867.

WAR OFFICE ORDER.

The War Department, in a general order issued to-day, announces that all appointments of commissioned officers provided for by act of July 28th, 1866, having been filed in accordance with its provisions, a higher standard of qualification, analogous to that which prevailed before the late war, will in future be required of all candidates for appointment as Second Lieutenants. As a general rule one-fourth of the vacancies occurring annually will be filled, agreeably to the existing laws and regulations, from non-commissioned officers in the army. The remainder not filled by the graduating classes of the Military Academy will be supplied from civil life. The order gives the regulations which are to be observed in the examination of candidates. Company Commanders are required to report to their Colonels all such non-commissioned officers as, in their opinion, by education, conduct and services, seem to merit advancement, and who have served not less than two years in the regular army. On receiving the report of the company commanders, the Colonels will assemble a Board to make a preliminary examination of the claims and qualifications of those non-commissioned officers who may appear to them deserving of promotion. The Colonel is required to endorse his remarks on the statement of the Court and forward them to the Adjutant General of the Army.

JUDGE FISHER AND COUNSELLOR BRADLEY EMUTE.

The answer of Joseph H. Bradley, Sr., to the rule laid upon him by the Supreme Court in general term last week, requiring him to show cause why his name should not be erased from the roll of attorneys of the Court, was handed in today by Hon. Robt. J. Walker, who asked leave to file it, in order that if there should be anything objectionable in the answer it might be withdrawn and amended. Mr. Bradley subsequently appeared and attested the answer. It is supposed the paper will be considered in chambers, when the Court will determine what course it will take in the matter. The answer is to the effect that the action of Judge Fisher, in directing Braldey's name to be taken from the roll as a practioner at the bar, was based on a misapprehension of all the facts in the case; that the regular time for the term of the Court to adjourn having passed by, the language used by the respondent, upon hearing the decision of the Court, did not technically come under the definition of contempt; that the letter written to Judge Fisher and delivered by respondent to him was not a challenge; that if the Court is in doubt as to the correctness of these and other statements, an opportunity is asked for respondent to produce evidence to substantiate them, such evidence to be submitted to the Court before rendering a decision.

MUTILATED CURRENCY.

All national bank notes sent to the office of the Comptroller of Currency, for destruction and exchange for new notes, should be in packages of five hundred dollars, and should in all cases be cancelled before sending by cutting out the signatures of the officers. Otherwise the notes will be returned at the expense of the bank for cancellation.

FEMALE THIEF IN THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

For some time past there have been repeated larcenies of small sums of money and trifling articles from various drawers in the counting office of the Treasury Bureau. All efforts to discover the thief proved unavailing until recently, when the offender was detected in the person of one of the female employees, whose duty it was to prepare the rooms in the morning. The amounts stolen were for the most part the property of private parties. Gen. Spinner, after satisfying himself of the guilt of the accused, dismissed her from employment.

REVENUE SOLICITOR.

There are no indications of the immediate appointment of a Solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau. In all probability the appointment will be made from the Western States.

GEN. HOWARD AND THE NEGRO VOTE.

Gen. Howard has written a letter, in reply to an inquiry whether the colored vote in the late elections in the South is in too large proportion to the negro population, in which he says: "Carefully computed statistics warrant the conclusion that the aggregate negro population of the United States has increased from 1860 to the present date. The decrease heretofore alleged was based in part on my report of December 21st, 1866, which was estimated from very meagre returns."

PUBLIC DEBT.

The statement of the public debt will not be made until Wednesday next, but it is ascertained that it will show a reduction of the total debt of about two millions of dollars.

PATENTS TO BE ISSUED.

The Commissioner of Patents will, for the week ending the 12th inst., issue two hundred and sixty patents.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of Internal Revenue today were $2,067,000.

GEORGIA ELECTION.

The Convention Carried by a Decided Majority.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette]

ATLANTA, November 4.—Additional returns indicate a majority for the Convention of 12,000 or 15,000. The regular Union nominees are re-elected in every district reported.

The latest returns increase the Convention majority. The vote will reach 110,000, the white vote being about 30,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A special to the World from Montgomery, Ala., says: Leading delegates differ widely respecting the management of the Convention. One party favors simply striking out the word "white" from the present Constitution, while the majority urge extreme measures.

The new Constitution is all cut, and dried. It incorporates the disfranchisement clause of the Howard amendment; provides an extensive system of State aid to private enterprises, and virtually throws all taxes on the whites.

TENNESSEE.

Legislature and the Cotton Tax—Mail Contractor Arrested—Desperado Killed and Another Escapes.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NASHVILLE, Nov. 4.—The lower house of the Legislature passed a joint resolution calling upon Tennessee Congressmen to aid in securing the abolition of the cotton tax.

John McKills, mail contractor, and formerly a Federal Quartermaster, has been arrested, charged with the collection of fifty thousand dollars of claims bearing the forged name of Gen. Schall. He gave five thousand dollars bonds for his appearance before the United States Commissioner.

A reputed desperado, named Hookberry, was shot and mortally wounded near Lavergne, a few days since, by Ben Duffie.

The notorious guerrilla, Burdle, alleged to be one of the robbers of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad pay train, was in the city to-day, but eluded the police.

CHICAGO.

Heavy Bank Robbery—Government Indian Commissioners.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The bank of Pettis & Ingalls, at Tremont, Tazewell county, Illinois, was broken into on Thursday night and robbed of one hundred thousand dollars in money and bonds. The burglars are still at large.

Lieutenant General Sherman, Major Generals Harney, Terry, Augur and other Government Commissioners, leave here to-day for Omaha and Fort Laramie to meet the Sioux and other tribes in that region, at the latter place.

NORTH CAROLINA.

THE WHITE AND BLACK RACES.

Important Supreme Court Decision.

The Right of Railroad Companies to Keep Separate White and Black Passengers.

In the Supreme Court, now sitting in this city, an opinion was delivered yesterday in a case involving the right of railroad companies, or carriers, to keep separate black and white passengers, in which it is declared that, prior to the act of Assembly of March last, there was that natural, legal and customary difference between the races in Pennsylvania which made their separation as passengers in a public conveyance the subject of sound regulation, to secure order, promote comfort, preserve the peace, and maintain the rights both of carriers and passengers. The case in which the question originated, we judge, was that of a colored woman suing for damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by being compelled to occupy a different seat in a railroad car than the one she had selected. Below we give the opinion of the Court in full:

Philadelphia and West Chester Railroad Co. vs. Mary E. Miles. Eastern District. Error to Common Pleas of Philadelphia Co.

AGNEW J. It is admitted that no one can be excluded from carriage by a public carrier on account of color, religious belief, political relations, or prejudice. But the defendants asked the Court to say that if the jury believed that the seat which the plaintiff was directed to take was in all respects a comfortable, safe and convenient seat, not inferior in any of these respects to the one she was directed to leave, she could not recover. The case therefore involves no assertion of the inferiority of the negro to the white passenger; but conceding his right to be carried precisely on the same footing with a white man, it appears to be not unreasonable to assign places in the cars to passengers of each color. The simple question is, whether a public carrier may, in the exercise of his private right of property, and in due performance of his public duty, separate passengers by any other well defined characteristic than that of sex. The ladies' car is known upon every well regulated railroad, implies no loss of equal right on the part of the excluded sex, and its propriety is doubted by none.

This question must be decided upon reasonable grounds. If there be no clear and reasonable difference to base it upon, separation cannot be justified by mere prejudice. Nor is merit a test. The negro may be proud of his service in the field as a defender of his country. But it was not thought indefensible to separate even white soldiers from other passengers. There is a clear and well founded difference between the civil and military character, and the separation of soldiers from citizens implied no want of inequality, but a sound regulation of the right of transit.

The right of the carrier to separate his passengers is founded upon two grounds—his right of private property in the means of conveyance, and the public interest. The private means he uses belong wholly to himself, and implies the right of control for the protection of his own interest, as well as the performance of his public duty. He may use his property, therefore, in a reasonable manner. It is not an unreasonable regulation to seat passengers so as to preserve order and decorum, and to prevent contacts and collisions, arising from natural or well known customary repugnancies, which are likely to breed disturbances by a promiscuous sitting. This is a proper use of the right of private property, because it tends to protect the interests of the carrier, as well as the interests of those he carries. If the ground of regulation be reasonable, courts of justice cannot interfere with his right of property. The right of the passenger is only that of being carried safely, and with a due regard to his personal comfort and convenience, which are promoted by a sound and well regulated separation of passengers. An analogy and an illustration are found in the case of an innkeeper, who, if he have room, is bound to entertain proper guests; and so a carrier is bound to receive passengers. But a guest in an inn cannot select his room or his bed at pleasure; nor can a voyager take possession of a cabin or a berth at will, or refuse to obey the reasonable orders of the captain of a vessel. But, on the other hand, who would maintain that it is a reasonable regulation, either of an inn or a vessel, to compel the passengers, black or white, to room or bed together? If a right of private property confers no right of control, who should decide a contest between passengers for seats or berths? Courts of justice might interfere to compel those who perform a business concerning the public, by the use of private means, to fulfil their duty to the public; but not a whit beyond.

The public also has an interest in the proper regulation of public conveyances, for the preservation of the public peace. A railroad company has the right and is bound to make reasonable regulations to preserve order in their cars. It is the duty of the conductor to repress tumults as far as he reasonably can, and he may on extraordinary occasions stop his train and eject the unruly and tumultuous. But he has not the authority of a peace officer to arrest and detain offenders. He cannot interfere in the quarrels of others at will merely. In order to preserve and enforce his authority as the servant of the company, it must have a power to establish proper regulations for the carriage of passengers. It is much easier to prevent difficulties among passengers by regulations for their proper separation, than it is to quell them. The danger to the peace engendered by the feeling of aversion between individuals of the different races cannot be denied. It is the fact with which the company must deal. If a negro take his seat beside a white man, or his wife, or daughter, the law cannot repress the anger or conquer the aversion which some will feel. However unwise it may be to engender the feeling, human infirmity is not always proof against it. It is much wiser to avert the consequences of this repulsion of race by separation, than to punish afterward the breach of the peace it may have caused. These views are sustained by high authority. Judge Story, in his Law of Bailments, stating the duty of passengers "to submit to "such reasonable regulations as the pro-"prietors may adopt for the convenience "and comfort of the other passengers as "well as for their own proper interests," says "the importance of the doctrine is "felt more strikingly in cases of steam-"boats and railroad cars." S. 591 a; see also, S. 476 a, Angel on Claims, S. 528; 1 American Railway Cases, 393, 394.

The right to separate being clear in proper cases, and it being the subject of sound regulation, the question remaining to be considered is, whether there is such a difference between the white and black races within this State, resulting from nature, law and custom, as makes it a reasonable ground of separation. The question is one of difference, not of superiority or inferiority. Why the Creator made one black and the other white, we know not; but the fact is apparent, and the races distinct, each producing its own kind, and following the peculiar law of its constitution. Conceding equality, with natures as perfect and rights as sacred, yet God has made them dissimilar, with those natural instincts and feelings which He always imparts to His creatures when He intends that they shall not overstep the natural boundaries He has assigned to them. The natural law which forbids their intermarriage, and that of social amalgamation which leads to a corruption of races, is as clearly Divine as that which imparted to them different natures. The tendency of intimate social intercourse is to amalgamation contrary to the law of races. The separation of the white and black races upon the surface of the globe is a fact equally apparent. Why this is so, it is not necessary to speculate, but the fact of a distribution of men by race and color is as visible in the providential arrangement of the earth as that of heat and cold. The natural separation of the races is therefore an undeniable fact, and all social organizations which lead to their amalgamation are repugnant to the law of nature. From social amalgamation it is but a step to illicit intercourse, and but another to intermarriage. But to assert separateness is not to declare inferiority in either—it is not to declare one a slave and the other a freeman; that would be to draw the illogical sequence of inferiority from difference only. It is simply to say that following the order of Divine Providence, human authority ought not to compel these widely separated races to intermix. The right of such to be free from social contact is as clear as to be free from intermarriage. The former may be less repulsive as a condition, but not less entitled to protection as a right. When, therefore, we declare a right to maintain separate relations, as far as is reasonably practicable, but in a spirit of kindness and charity, and with due regard to equality of rights, it is not prejudice, nor caste, nor injustice of any kind, but simply to suffer men to follow the law of races, established by the Creator himself, and not to compel them to intermix contrary to their interests.

Nor can we disregard the laws and customs of the State. Indeed, these must be our guide, leaving it to the Legislature to correct the errors of the law, or its departure from that justice which should ever be its foundation. It is unnecessary to recur to the original condition of negroes as slaves in Pennsylvania or to trace the legislation of the province distinguishing them from freemen. Nor need we, for the purpose of defining the status of the negro, refer to that great law of emancipation in 1780, whose preamble, the most beautiful and expressive ever prefixed to a human statute, only professed to extend to the black race a "portion" of our own freedom. We have a later and an authoritative guide, the solemn decision of this Court, in 1837, in the case of Hobbs vs. Fogg, 6 Watts, 553. The opinion comes from the pen of the late C. J. Gibson, and bears the imprint of his remarkable intellect. It is there shown from the laws, constitutions and customs of the State, and from a former decision of the High Court of Errors and Appeals, that the status of the negro never fell within the term "freemen" in the several constitutions; and that the emancipation act of 1780 did not elevate him to the citizenship of the State. And in 1838 the people of this Commonwealth, by an express amendment of their constitution, drew the line distinctly between the white citizens and black inhabitants of the State. It is clear, therefore, that under the constitution and laws, the white and black races stand in a separate relation to each other. We find the same difference in the institutions and customs of the State. Never has there been an intermixture of the two races, socially, religiously, civilly, or politically. By uninterrupted usage the blacks live apart, visit and entertain among themselves, occupy separate places of public worship and amusement, and fill no civil or political stations, not even sitting to decide their own causes. In fact, there is not an institution of the State in which they have mingled indiscriminately with the whites. Even the common school law provides for separate schools when their numbers are adequate. In the military service, also, they were not intermixed with the white soldiers, but were separated into companies and regiments of color, and this not by way of disparagement, but from motives of wisdom and prudence, to avoid the antagonisms of variant and unmixible races. Law and custom having sanctioned a separation of races, it is not the province of the judiciary to legislate it away. We cannot say there was no difference in fact, when the law and the voice of the people had said there was. The laws of the State are found in its constitution, statutes, institutions and general customs. It is to these sources Judges must resort to discover them. If they abandon these guides, they pronounce their own opinions, not the laws of those whose officers they are. Following these guides, we are compelled to declare that at the time of the alleged injury there was that natural, legal and customary difference between the white and black races in this State which made their separation as passengers in a public conveyance the subject of sound regulation, to secure order, promote comfort, preserve the peace, and maintain the rights both of carriers and passengers. The defendants were therefore entitled to an affirmative answer to the point recited at the beginning of this opinion.

It only remains to add that this cause arose before the passage of the act of 22d March, 1867, declaring it an offense for railroad companies to make any distinction between passengers on account of race or color, and our decision pronounces the law only as it stood when the case arose, leaving the act to operate upon such cases as shall fall within its provisions. Indeed, the act itself is an indication of the legislative understanding of how the law stood before.

Judgment reversed and venire facias de novo awarded.

Justice Reed dissented.

Allegheny Councils—Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the Allegheny City Councils was held last evening for the purpose of appointing a Commissioner to levy assessments to defray the expenses incurred in the construction of the Canal sewer, vice G. Wettach, resigned.

SELECT BRANCH.

Members present: Messrs. Brown, Drum, English, Gang, Hall, Motherel, Patterson, J. C., Patterson, A., Smith, A. D., Smith, Wm., and President Meller.

The President stated the object of the meeting.

Mr. Brown offered a resolution, appointing Benjamin Lutton Commission on Canal Sewer, which was adopted.

Mr. A. D. Smith moved that the rules be suspended, in order that a remonstrance might be presented. The motion prevailed.

Mr. Smith presented a remonstrance from General Robinson against the opening of Rebecca street, which was received and referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. English offered the following:

Resolved, That Mr. Davis, City Regulator, be added to the Special Committee appointed by Councils to take into consideration the communication referred to said Committee in regard to the Canal street sewer.

The resolution was adopted.

On motion, Councils adjourned.

No business was transacted in Common Councils, there being no quorum present.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body of Henry Lindsey on Sunday. The deceased, who was about ten years of age, was run over by a car at the outer depot, in Allegheny, about three o'clock Saturday, and almost instantly killed. The boy had got upon a train of truck cars that was being shifted off the main track to the sidings, and was sitting on the platform with his legs hanging down between the cars. The train bumped against some freight cars, throwing the boy between the cars and on the track. Before the train could be stopped two of the wheels had passed over his body, almost cutting it in two. He was picked up, but expired in a few minutes. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, in accordance with the above facts, and exonerated the railroad company from all blame. The parents of the deceased reside in the Sixth ward, Allegheny.

Allegheny Light Guards.

A military company was organized in Allegheny City last evening by the election of the following officers:

Captain—J. C. Martin. First Lieutenant—J. S. Edgar. Second Lieutenant—Charles Drennan. First Sergeant—H. Walker. Second Sergeant—E. Gemmill. Third Sergeant—William Smith. Fourth Sergeant—S. Young. Fifth Sergeant—H. Stork. Color Sergeant—W. T. Harvey. Corporals—A. Magraw, R. Beck, J. Dyer, S. Moreland, J. Glenn, Charles Wolfendale, S. Crewson, R. J. Wilson. Drum Major—John Harvey.

We acknowledge the compliment of a serenade from the splendid drum corps of the company last night. The martial music was of excellent quality, and we hope they will make their visits frequent.

Accident.

Mr. Crouss, an employee at the furniture manufactory of Lemon & Weise, Fourth street, met with a serious accident on Saturday, which might have proved fatal but for his presence of mind. He was engaged at the grindstone sharpening some tools, when his clothing became entangled in the belting, throwing him off his feet, when, fortunately, he caught hold of an iron rod and held on until the machinery was stopped. It was ascertained on rescuing him, that he had suffered only a few bruises and scratches, but all his clothing was completely stripped from his person. He was removed to his boarding house in Allegheny. It is thought he will be able to attend to his duties in a few days.

The Morals of Allegheny.

It appears from recent occurrences that our sister city is fast losing her heretofore merited reputation for morality. We have had an account of a burglary, robbery, a cutting affray and an attempted suicide, all occurring within the last two days. The last two cases of murder tried in Court were also committed in that once model moral city. Has the vigilance of our police driven the rogues to that side of the river, or is it on account of a lack of that article in the Allegheny police force?

Letter Carrier's Report.—The following is a summary of the report of the letter carriers of Allegheny city for the month of October:

Letters Delivered—Mailed letters, 26,513; dropped, 2,123; papers, 10,928; total, 38,928.

Collected—Mailed letters, 7,550; dropped, 78; papers, 237; total, 7,865.

Rev. David Cook Page, D. D.

The retirement of this much revered and eloquent Divine from the Rectorship of Christ's Episcopal Church, Allegheny, to which he felt constrained by impaired health, will be scarcely less regretted by the religious community generally than by his immediate parishoners. None of all our clergymen have been more esteemed by his brethren of other denominations; none have been more admired for his colloquial powers and social amenities. His ministrations have been much interrupted by severe attacks of illness—nevertheless whenever the Doctor would return to his pulpit numerous admirers would resort to his Church. Some, for the spiritual instructions sure to be imparted, others to listen to his admirable rendering of the beautiful service of his church, or his terse and logical discourses—nearly always embellished and illustrated by improvised parenthetical passages or digressions—of rare beauty and appropriateness.

If the Doctor's health shall, as we sincerely hope it may, be fully restored by his respite for a time from the arduous labors of a faithful ministry, his learning, eloquence, talents and well known zeal in the cause of his Master, will not be suffered to remain long unemployed. He is fitted to adorn any pulpit in the land.

A Wife Beater.

Thomas and Julia Farrell are residents of Oakland township, and have, for several years past, as man and wife, realized "how sweet and pleasant it is to dwell together in unity." Their happiness, however, like all things mortal, was destined to have an end, and, verily, the end came. Thomas, it appears, was led from the path of rectitude by his associates, and with them acquired a penchant for strong drink, in which he indulged freely. His wife remonstrated with him, but to no effect, and on one occasion, when she was more earnest in her solicitations than Thomas thought proper, he repaid her kindness by beating and abusing her. She had submitted to his neglect and abusive language, but when assaulted and beaten in this manner "forbearance ceased to be a virtue," and she repaired to the office of Justice Lippert and made information against him for assault and battery. He was arrested and after a hearing was committed to jail for a further hearing, in default of the required bail.

An Unpleasant Companion.

From the following facts which we obtained from an information made before Alderman Strain yesterday, we are inclined to the belief that Robert M. Painter is a very unpleasant if not dangerous husband. Fannie Painter made information against him, charging him with aggravated assault and battery, in which she alleges that he struck her in the eye with his first, knocked her down and kicked her, after which he took down a rifle gun and pointed it at her, threatening to shoot her if she did not leave the house. If these statements are true Painter is an unmitigated ruffian, and should be severely punished. A man who would abuse a woman in that manner is too mean to live in a civilized community, and should either be confined in the penitentiary or banished beyond the pale of civilization. Painter was arrested and held for a hearing.

In Trouble.

Ben. Trimble, Jr., appears to be a persecuted man. Whether there is any foundation for the multiplicity of prosecutions that have been brought against him, we are unable to say. We published last week two or three cases in which he was defendant, and we found another information against him at Alderman Strain's yesterday. Patrick Harkins charges him with assault and battery, and alleges in the information that Trimble pushed and shoved him violently. We did not learn the particulars of the affray, but presume it was at City Hall, on Thursday evening last, where a difficulty occurred, out of which the prosecutions before mentioned originated. Benjamin was arrested and held for a hearing.

Female Pugilists.

[illegible] residents of Manchester, it appears, have ignored the restrictions lain upon the "softer sex," and are now striving to win fame in the "P. R." They had a difficulty a few days since which resulted in a regular fisticuff. Mrs. Kershner evidently came out of the affray second best, as she appeared before Alderman Strain yesterday and made information against the other aspirant for pugilistic honors, charging her with assault and battery. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer Barry, who arrested her. She was held for a hearing.

Distressing Accident.—We noticed in yesterday's GAZETTE, a serious accident which occurred at Turtle Creek, Friday evening, which it appears was incorrect, in one particular. The name of the unfortunate lady was Pollock instead of Carothers, as we have since been informed. We learn that Mrs. Pollock, after suffering terribly, expired Sunday evening.

The Sheriffalty Question.—the rule to show cause why a writ of quo warranto should not issue—was to have been taken up in the Supreme Court yesterday, but owing to a previous arrangement the hearing was deferred until to-day.

The Argument List in the Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions Courts will be taken up to-day at ten o'clock. Members of the bar interested will take notice.

A Special Term of the United States Court has been ordered for the fourth week in January next.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1867.

THE INDIAN WAR has run up the expenses of the War Department for the past year considerably above those of the year before.

THE Virginia Constitutional Convention is ordered to meet December 3d, to proceed to their work. The sooner and more effectually that work shall be done, the sooner will Virginia resume its old place in the circle of the Union.

ACCORDING to General Howard's computation the blacks of the South have increased half a million since the war. Twenty-five per cent of natural increase in excess of deaths, in the space of two years, is ahead of all previous experience, either among whites or blacks.

IT IS denied authoritatively that an intention exists, or has existed, of consolidating the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the New Jersey Transportation Company, and the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company. All that has been proposed, or will be attempted, is such an identification of interests and efforts as will take freight and travel over their lines as now connected, and which we accurately described a few days ago.

THE PREJUDICE OF COLOR.

Yesterday, in the Supreme Court, a decision was made in respect to the right of railway companies to discriminate between white and black passengers. The majority opinion was delivered by Judge AGNEW, and we give it in full. Its logic and law is of the antediluvian sort, which passed current in this country before the flood of the rebellion. Judge READ pronounced a dissenting opinion, in terms comporting with the best civilization of modern times.

This decision, however, while of importance to the litigants, is not of special interest to the public, the Legislature, at the last session, having made discriminations on account of color illegal.

We cannot let the occasion pass without dissenting from one point made by Judge AGNEW. He justifies railway companies in separating black and white passengers by the practice of excluding male passengers who have no females in charge from the carriages in which females are conveyed. A good many men, especially such as have the genuine instincts of gentlemen, are often compelled to feel that this distinction is an outrage. On some lines it happens that a man without a woman in company is frequently compelled to take a seat in a car with vulgar, ill-bred, dirty white men, whose presence is altogether repulsive. An exchange of such for decent and orderly colored men would be a great relief. It is full time the managers of railways came to the conclusion to discontinue this kind of discrimination.

THE HOUR FOR REFLECTION.

The last gun fired between the contending armies of the patriotic North and misguided South, at the close of the recent wicked and terrible rebellion, was the harbinger of joy to thousands of households in both sections of the country. We of the North rejoiced that the dread scenes of a horrible war had ended; that treason had been crushed and the Government vindicated; that whole armies of proud traitors were made bend their knees in supplication before sturdy Union patriots, who, in God's name, had done battle in a holy and righteous cause. The masses of the South, gladdened that the burden of war had been lifted, and that they were freed from the tyrannical rule of those who had plunged them into hopeless conflict with the established authority of the land; and down in their hearts they rejoiced that the old flag, with all its stars, triumphed; and, prodigal like, they would be forgiven their transgressions and be again received into the confidence of those whose trust they had betrayed and forfeited. Many and earnest were the Te Deums of thanksgiving sent heavenward to the Throne of Grace, by the happy, war-delivered people of our country, as the electric spark flashed from State to State the golden intelligence that peace had been restored and victory rested with the Union armies.

After peace the North was disposed to magnanimity. The South only hoped that justice would not be meted out in proportion to her wickedness and crime. The day the proclamation of peace was promulgated both sections were riper for the adjustment of national troubles than now. No matter how charitably disposed, the North could not forget what it cost in blood and treasure to save the Union; neither could she prove careless in the discharge of her duty to posterity. In the eyes of the civilized world treason and armed rebellion aiming at the life of a government are no ordinary offenses, but too odious to be permitted to go entirely forgiven and unpunished. It was eminently wise to establish a precedent for the guidance of those who will follow in our footsteps; to teach them how a great nation regards treason and rebellion among her citizens. The loyal masses who had saved the Union were willing to receive into fellowship their erring friends of the South, but preferred that their representatives in Congress should dictate for whom, and on what conditions, national absolution should be pronounced. The South accepted the situation without a murmur, knowing that lenity in her case was a quality of Mercy rather than of Justice.

Congress, the exponent of the people, animated by a high sense of duty, legislated for the States stained with rebellion, and prescribed wise and proper rules and regulations for the government of the people thereof. The wisdom of Congress was to be trusted. It had provided for the successful oncarrying of the war; had buoyed up our country in all her trials, preserving her standing and credit abroad as well as at home. The courage and fidelity of Congress had ever inspired our armies with hope, and filled every loyal heart in the land with patriotic enthusiasm. In the darkest of the dark hours of rebellion, when the Union armies were within sight of the National Capital, and the heavy cannonading of the rebel foe shook the very halls in which it deliberated, and while the sharp noise of rebel rifles sounded in the ears of a Lincoln in the privacy of his mansion, and echoed in the silent tomb of a Washington; yes, while all was gloom and darkness, Congress remained firm, faltering not in duty, but enlivening and cheering the nation on to victory. In such a body the people had confidence, and confided the task rightfully belonging to it of adjusting national affairs as left by the crushing out of rebellion.

Guided by mercy and wisdom, Congress framed and offered to the South a just plan of reconstruction. It would have been gladly accepted had not the enemies of the nation, for purposes political, developed antagonism to the loyal Congress, and intervened to prevent the Southern people from organizing under its provisions. False friends there were to poison the minds of the citizens of the Southern States, and bid them even yet resist the arm of authority and demand the rights forfeited by rebellion, without doing pennance or undergoing any punishment for their crimes.

Thirsting for a renewal of his fast waning term of office, and believing that it was easier to obtain notoriety by opposing, rather than adhering to the right, the President swung into the enemy's line, and was proud to become a leader against the people's representatives in Congress. He polluted his high office by impeding, in every possible way, the reconstruction of the Southern States; he did all that mortal could do to weaken the Republican party, the party holding the principles of Congress, and to delay the cementing together in the bond of friendship the disintegrated parts of the Union. He joined with the element which, during the war, slumbered in obscurity, to awake at its close to cry down with taunt and insult those who bared their breasts to the fire of the rebel hordes that the government might triumph over its enemies. But Congress met him as it did the legions of traitors before him, with firmness and determination. Steadily persevering in the right, it was not to be swerved one inch from the line of strict duty by opposition from above or below the wiped out dividing line between slavery and freedom. Pressing onward and forward, relying in the patriotism and intelligence of the people to sustain its action, Congress appealed to the ballet-box for endorsement.

The recent elections held in Pennsylvania, Ohio and other States were to be taken as thermometers of public opinion. But how spoke those States? The people slumbered on their arms. They closed their eyes at the very moment they should have been on the alert. Yearning for rest after hard-earned victory, and believing that the enemy had withdrawn his pickets, they became unconscious of things about them till aroused by the thundering voices of Pennsylvania, Ohio and California, crying out against them, and rebuking them as an indolent, unwatchful army of liberty. The enemy stole a march upon them, gained ground and advantage, and now holds position for future offensive operations. The loyal North is again on the defensive, as much so as when the enemy threatened to sweep down upon our Commonwealth from Virginia. Time is precious. Every lover of his country is called to buckle on his armor and participate in the political warfare waged against those who actively figured in the rebellion, and the less honorable ones who silently gave countenance and support to the armed rebels who aimed at the life of the Government.

Now is the hour for calm, sober reflection. The rebellion was not closed as all imagined when brave GRANT entered Richmond, followed by his victorious troops. Issues to be settled by the ballot remained undetermined, and they are of more importance than the masses seem willing to believe. The Government is jeopardized as much to-day as during the darkest day of the war. A defeat before Richmond, or the routing of one of our armies, could not then have portended deeper disaster than does now a democratic triumph at the ballot-box. The soldiers who served in the army of the Union, the civilian at home who watched and prayed for victories for the old flag, must stop and reflect on the situation, and inquire whither they are drifting. If they discover that they have deserted the ranks, and now stand beneath the flag of the enemy, they must return to the standard of Congress, for the fate of the nation is wrapped in that body, and it must be unflinchingly sustained.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Best Time to Sow Grass Seed.

I have an impression that experimental knowledge is the most valuable for the farmer. For more than half a century I have been experimenting to find the best time to sow grass seed. For more than thirty of the first years of my farming I did as my neighbors did; we supposed the spring months were the only proper ones for that purpose. But later in life by reading agricultural papers I discovered that some enterprising farmers were successful in sowing their grass seed in August and September. I tried the experiment with complete success; that being the season it would naturally fall, it appeared evident to my mind that it was the right one. But still later I have not been particular, and have sowed grass seed any season when my ground was prepared to receive it, and if the seed was good it has uniformly vegetated and done well.

Last fall we (my son and myself,) after harvesting our potatoes from the low wet soil, which would not admit of seeding down in early spring, sowed herd grass and red top seed on the 14th and 15th of October, upon said potato field, doubting, but still hoping for the best; and now, the 8th of July, it bids to give us the best crop of hay produced on any of my farm lots. This grass will probably require two weeks longer. I think I never saw seed vegitate better at any season. Grass seed will vegitate a long time after sowed. The spring of 1862 I seeded down a lot of good ground—rather dry—with red top seed. The months of June and July were uncommonly dry, and at the middle of August there was no appearance of grass sprout on the piece. On the 10th of August—the same year—it began to rain profusely, and continued raining for several weeks till the ground was saturated. In September, more than four months after the seed was sown, every seed seemed to vegitate, and the ground appeared like a beautiful lawn. And on the whole I have concluded that any time when our land is in a good state of preparation to receive the seed, is the best time to sow it.—E. Brown, in Boston Cultivator.

Adornments of the Homestead.

P. Barry, of this city, one of the most intelligent horticulturists in the country, gives the following advice on this subject:

"The first thing I should press on the farmers in the way of improvement, would be what we might call roadside improvement. Keep the cattle off the highways, keep the weeds cut close, and lines of shade trees on each side of this, with neat fences, will be an evidence of civilization to begin with. Then I would enjoin the removal from the roadsides, near the dwelling, of all dilapidated and broken implements, which are so apt, somehow or other, to accumulate.

"The barn and other outbuildings are very frequently located more on the principle of convenience than good taste, but we must take these things as they are, and improve them with paint or wash of some sort, and a good thick belt of rapid growing trees around them, both for shelter and shade and to partly conceal their unsightly appearance.

"Then, as for the door-yard, I would dig up, root out all the old neglected plum, peach, cherry and quince trees, that seem to have sprung up by chance in the corners. All this class of trees, that we might call the finer fruits, not usually grown in orchards, I would form into a nice fruit garden of half an acre or two acres, as might be necessary. There I would have a complete collection of pears, cherries, apricots, plums, quinces, all the small fruits systematically planted and carefully cultivated. This garden might be made one of the most interesting portions of the premises, to say nothing of the abundant supply of fine fruit and vegetables it would yield. Here the family could acquire taste for gardening, as well as learn to practice it.

"Then the ground about the house I would convert into a smooth lawn, which must be suitably embellished with deciduous and evergreen trees, flowering shrubs, roses, &c. This is the way I preach to farmers when I visit them, but only once in a great while with any effect. It is a shame for our well-to-do farmers that they are so behind in this matter. It makes farm life so dull and dreary a pursuit, that I am not surprised to see all the brighter boys run away from it, and our rural population growing less and less every year. Then think how much these improvements would add to the market value of the farms. A nice house, some good fences, an orchard, increase the value of a farm from twenty to twenty-five dollars per acre, other things being equal, but carry out such suggestions as I have made, and what do you suppose it would add to the value of farms? Almost double it! This argument has some weight; it touches the pocket, but the moral effect of such improvement would be absolutely incalculable."—American Farmer.

Wine Making on the Small Scale.

Those who wish to make wine in any considerable quantities, will, of course, study up the subject in books devoted to it. But there are many, who, having a few grapes, would like to convert them into wine for their own use, or to test the wine making qualities of some particular variety. If the grapes contain sufficient sugar to make a good wine, the process requires but little care, as the wine will make itself, but with grapes deficient in sugar the process becomes less easy. The theory of wine making may be briefly summed up thus: Grape juice contains sugar; fermentation converts this sugar into alcohol. If the amount of sugar and the resulting amount of alcohol be small, then further changes take place, and vinegar is the result. If, on the other hand, the grape juice be naturally rich in sugar, so much alcohol is produced that the liquid does not readily pass into vinegar—but remains as wine—and if there is a very large amount of sugar, more than is converted into alcohol before fermentation ceases, there will be a sweet wine—a thing not at present likely to occur with us. The first requisite is good grapes. These must be as thoroughly ripened as possible. They are to be carefully freed from defective berries, removed from the stems and crushed. With small quantities this may be done with the hands, or with larger ones, in a barrel with a wooden pounder. The steps after this will depend upon the character of wine desired. The juice may be at once pressed out and placed in the keg or demijohn in which it is to ferment, or, if it be desired to extract color and aroma from the skins, then the unpressed mass is put in a tub or other vessel, covered with a cloth over which some boards are laid, and allowed to ferment for two or three days, or until the color of the skins is sufficiently extracted. At the end of this time, press out the must, and transfer it to the vessel in which the fermentation is to be completed. This will take place in from ten days to several weeks, according to the richness of the grape, and it will go on more or less rapidly, according to the temperature of the room. A weak must will ferment at 60°, while a heavier one will require a higher temperature. With rich grapes, the only thing necessary is to fill the vessel to the bung or mouth, allowing the froth to be thrown over. The loss must be supplied from must kept for the purpose. If the must is poor, it is better to close the vessel with a tight bung or cork, with an India rubber tube inserted in its center. This tube, which may be a foot or two long, should have its free end dip below the surface of water in a cup conveniently placed. As fermentation goes on, the liberated gas will bubble through the water, but no air can enter.

When fermentation is complete, which will be known by the liquid becoming quiet, the vessel is to be closed and allowed to remain until the wine becomes clear. It should then be carefully racked off, or transferred to another and perfectly sweet and clean cask or vessel. Another fermentation, less violent than the first, will take place when warm weather returns, after which the wine may be bottled. If sufficient care be used, these experiments may be made on a small scale, but they need careful watching. The best specimen of American wine we ever saw, was made from the Iona, by Doct. Grant, who used a demijohn for a cask, and his dining room for a wine cellar. The richer the must is in sugar, the more successful will these small operations prove.

THE Germantown Telegraph gives the following plan for preserving cabbage during winter: Select a dry part of the garden; dig trenches of sufficient depth to receive the cabbage roots and stalks up to the head; into these trenches transplant the cabbage—heads up of course; fill in dirt carefully about them up to the heads; plant four short posts, two of them being higher than the others to give pitch to the roof; nail shingling, lath or strips of old boards from one post to the other, and another board half way up; lay upon this a number of bean poles, and upon these throw cornfodder, straw, or bean haulm, protecting also the sides, and your cabbage will keep in good condition until May. Where there is a fence, only two posts will be necessary—that being employed as the apex of the cover or roof."

PILAFF.—This is the great dish of the Orientals, and it is so truly delicious and so cheaply and easily made, that it is a wonder it has not become, ere this, a common dish in other countries. It is prepared in the following manner: Boil sufficient rice (according to the number of mouths to feed) in a large quantity of water. It should be put in cold water, with a little salt, and not stirred while cooking. When thoroughly done, strain off the water through a colander or sieve, and each kernel will be seperate and solid; then season with salt, pepper, butter and a little tomato sauce; cut up (not very fine) roasted or boiled mutton, or veal, and mix with the rice in the proportion of about two-thirds to one-third meat; let them simmer together a few minutes, and serve hot with the meat gravy. The water that the rice has been boiled in makes the very best starch for fine work.

Shall Nature be Sustained?

To give debilitating medicines to the weak is about as sensible as it would be to try to help a man to his feet by kicking him when he was down.

That sort of practice is going out of fashion. It has filled so many graveyards that people no longer believe in it.

If those who are not strong by nature expect to avoid the attacks of disease, they must endeavor to acquire the vigor necessary to resist it.

How is this to be done? Common sense suggests by the use of invigorating medicine.

The great object is to strengthen the system without exciting it.

This object is accomplished by the judicious use of the most potent and genial of all vegetable tonics and alteratives, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Many valuable properties are combined in this preparation. It improves the appetite and renders digestion easy and perfect.

It gives steadiness to the nerves. Induces a healthy, natural flow of bile, prevents constipation without unduly purging the bowels; gently stimulates the circulation, and by promoting a vigorous condition of the physical system, promotes also, that cheerfulness which is the truest indication of a well-balanced condition of all the animal powers.

Summer leaves both the body and the mind more or less enervated. Now is the time to recruit them, and thus forestall the malarious fevers and other complaints which prostrate so many thousands every fall.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

OFFICE OF THE AKRON IRON CO., AKRON, July 19th, 1867.
Mr. Robt. C. Totten, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sir: We have had a pair of your patent grooved chill rolls in our use for the last six months, and find them of a superior quality. The iron finished on them is of a smooth, even surface, and free from waves, and I consider them to be of great advantage, making better iron and of less expense, in consequence of requiring less dressing. Yours truly,
BENJ. GROSVENOR, Sup't.
PITTSBURGH STEEL WORKS, ANDERSON, COOK & CO., Manufacturers of Steel, Corner of Ross and First streets, PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7, 1867.
Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Dear Sir: The grooved chilled rolls which we procured from you about a year since have proved to be a perfect success. There is a great saving in dressing over soft Rolls, and give a much better finish to the Steel. We consider them indispensable.
Your truly,
ANDERSON, COOK & CO.
BLACK DIAMOND STEEL WORKS, PARK BROTHER & CO., PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13, 1867.
Mr. Robt. C. Totten, Pittsburgh—Dear Sir: In reply to your inquiry in relation to your new patent grooved Chill Rolls, we have to say that having used a number of them, we find they answer our purpose admirably. We are now using a pair of 16-inch grooved Chill Rolls, the last pair you made for us. These Rolls are used for finishing large rounds, and enable us to obtain such a finish upon our Steel as could not be had with the use of the ordinary grooved Rolls. The saving in turning your Rolls ready for use, is fully one-fourth less than is necessary when plain Chill Rolls have to be grooved in the turning lathe, whilst the advantage gained with your grooved Chill Rolls is, that the whole surface of the groove is uniformly hard, requiring not over one-half the work that is usually needed in dressing the ordinary grooved Rolls. We believe you have gained a great point in producing a grooved chill roll, an article that has long been needed by the manufacturers of Steel and Iron, to enable them to produce an article with a good finish and surface.
We take pleasure in recommending manufacturers of Steel and Iron to give your grooved Chill Rolls a trial. Respectfully yours, PARK BROTHER & CO.
We think we are warranted in believing that they will eventually take the place of Soft Rolls, especially for Rounds and Squares.
All orders promptly attended to.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

The extension of the branch from the Erie Railway up the Lackawaxen river to Honesdale, Pa., will be completed by the first of January next.

The grading of the Danville and Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Railway was recently let to John Bowen and Jeremiah and Samuel G. Savidge, of Sunbury, and he balance to William M. Wiley, of Lancaster, and J. V. Criswell, of Harrisburg. We understand that Messrs Wiley and Criswell have contracted to ay the sills and rails on the whole road.

The Easton Press states that the contract on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railway, managed by Messrs. Hughes & Bro., at Freemansburg, reached its completion a few days ago, after a tedious nd laborious work of nearly three years. During the month of January, 1867, inety men were employed upon the uge rock, "situated opposite the aged ock," under the auspices of Mr. R. G. tambach, who fought bravely with its nasses of flint, which resulted in a glorius victory. The track is now permanently placed between Bethlehem and reemansburg.

The Iowa Central Railroad is being ushed with irrepressible energy. From e Cedar Falls Gazette we learn that ublic meetings are being held in that lace to gather aid for the enterprise, nd there is a fair prospect that the iron ill be put down on the road from Cedar alls south to the crossing of the Northestern road near Toledo, in Tama ounty. The iron for one hundred and ty miles has already been purchased. he opening of this railroad will add amensely to the value of property in entral Iowa, and hasten the settlement the now unoccupied prairie lands of e interior of the State.

The work on the section of the Tole-, Peoria and Warsaw Railroad beeen Peoria and the Mississippi is beg pushed with great vigor. The Peo- Transcript of the 24th ult. says that e grading on the division between the kin junction and Canton, twenty iles, was commenced about two weeks o, and about six miles are already ished. Some seventy-five teams are work on it, and it is expected that the t of December, if the weather conues favorable, will see fourteen of the enty miles done. The entire section ll be completed and ready for the ack before the iron can reach here, ich is to be delivered in New Orleans February. On the section between nton and Bushnell, there is an old ade extending about ten miles, leaving ly four miles of new grading. This ll be put under contract and graded g before the track layers can reach it. is confidently expected that cars will running over the entire route from oria to Warsaw by July next.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy ilroad paid last year twenty per cent. on its capital stock.

The Rock Island Railroad, running in mpetition, the greater part of the way th the Illinois river, has paid for the t three years annually about ten per nt.

The Illinois Central pays seven per nt. of its gross earnings into the State easury. After deducting this seven r cent., it leaves ten per cent. to the ockholders. This is outside and disct from its land operations. The last nual report of this road shows the rmanent expenditure on the road (cost) have been thirty millions. Its capital ck is about twenty-three millions. net earnings, last year, were $2,-,523 13.

The Chicago, Alton & St. Louis road t $10,118,521 32. Its net earnings t year were $2,484,616 63. Aside m this it made permanent improvents, last year, amounting to 59.8 per nt. of its gross earnings. It has paid per cent. for the last three years, and addition has declared an extra divind of 25 per cent.

The Toledo, Wabash & Western Raily, stretching from Toledo, on Lake ie, to Quincy, Ill., is counted as one the poorest paying roads in the west. capital and indebtedness amounts to enty millions of dollars. Last year net earnings were $906,199 72. Aside m this it put down sixty-one miles of w track, last year, at a cost of $241,- 79. It built a new telegraph line at ost of $10,000. It put on the road 11,114 92 worth of locomotives, and ,000 worth of new passenger cars. l this, and very much more, was recked into the expenses, and was deduc from the gross earnings as stated ove.

The Northport Branch of the Long and Railroad, from Huntington to rthport, a distance of four and a half les, has been contracted for, and the rk will be immediately commenced.

The double track on the Western, ass., Railroad will be completed to ester in about two weeks. Between t place and Becket—nine miles—re will be only a single track during winter, and this will be the only ak in the double track between Bos- and Albany.

At a recent meeting of the friends of Kent County (Md.) Railroad, it was ted that the citizens of the villages of safras, Warwick and Middletown had termined to raise the sum of $100,000, order to secure the construction of the ad from Massey's Creek to Middlen, Del. The entire amount required $150,000.

The Connecticut Western Railroad, m Springfield to Collinsville, is said be in strong hands, and the extension the Collinsville Branch of the Canal ad to Lee and North Adams, Mass., regarded as almost certain. These o enterprises will be of mutual benefit the Canal Railroad, and will draw a rge trade to New Haven that now ks its market elsewhere.

The competition between the Northstern and Illinois Central, for shipents of freight to and from Dubuque d the country west and north of that y, still continues, with no diminution its intensity. The Northwestern has en sending freight from Dubuque down e river, to the terminus of the Western nion Railroad, and thence to Freeport d Chicago over the old Galena route. o counteract this move, the Central are ilding boats and barges to transfer aded cars from Dubuque to Dunleith, ross the ferry. Further north, by the rchase of the Winona and St. Peters, d other contemplated connections, the orthwestern seems determined to drain large share of the up-river traffic to its nes, restricting the Central to the revue derived from its local business one.

Wood, along the Pacific Railroad, sells from twenty-five to a hundred dollars r cord.

Freight may now be shipped from inneapolis direct to New York, Bosn and all points East and South, witht breaking bulk. The only interrupon in the line is at Prairie du Chien, here the Mississippi is crossed by eans of a ferry boat built for the exess purpose, upon which six loaded rs can be taken over at one time.

The Merchants Union Express Comany have organized another Fast ight Line, to be known as the "Telgraph Despatch," to run over the Erie ailway and all connecting roads from ew York to all points West, Southest and Northwest. The new Despatch ine went into operation on the 31st ult. he officers and offices of the "People's" nd "Telegraph" Despatch Lines will e the same.

The St. Louis and Illinois Bridge ompany have been at work day and ight for the last two weeks to complete heir coffer dam, so as to be able to build p the foundation of their western abutent pier before the freezing weather. hey are now filling in the dam with lay, and will be ready for pumping out he water in three or four days. They ave had two steam engines for the last ortnight at work pile driving in the contruction of the dam, and this part of he work is now completed.

The famous high bridge twenty miles ast of Easton, on the Jersey Central Railroad, has been filled in with earth nd stone at an expense of $250,000, nd now presents a broad and solid oadway over the entire chasm. The ame thing has been done with the ridges at Bloomsbury and Springtown. On the same line of road one of the finest viaducts has been constructed over he Lorpeteong Creek to be found in the country. It is built of solid stone; has ive arches, each of seventy-five feet six nches span, and cost upward of one undred thousand dollars.

The French railways have profited by he Exhibition. Five lines show an increase of receipts for the summer, ranging from $250,000 to $400,000, as compared with the corresponding period of 1866.

The overland railway route to China has been proven practicable. It will be five hundred miles long from Rangoon to Kiang Hung, on the Cambodia river. This route avoids the dangers and piracies of the China and Indian Oceans, and taps the rich tea-growing districts of Western China.

The experiment of steam passenger coaches in the streets of Lyons, France, has been unsuccessful. About sixty of the prominent citizens of the place, accompanied by the officials of the neighborhood, took passage in two-story coaches. The engine pulled well on level ground, or on a down grade, and turned around corners very nicely. It refused to pull up hill, however, and the train ran away with it. A little more science and the thing may be made to work.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

BY JOHH W. GEARY, GOVERNOR.

From the creation of the world, in all ages and climes, it has been customary to set apart certain days for special religious observance. This has not always been influenced by the light of Christian knowledge, nor by any proper conception of the character of that Great Being "who ruleth the earth in righteousness," and "who daily loadeth with his benefits;" but by an innate sense of the existence of an over-ruling Power, by which the world and all it contains are governed and controlled. Aided by the dictates of cultivated reason, and the teachings of Divine revelation, we, however, are taught to recognize in that Supreme Ruler a Heavenly Father, to whom we are indebted for existence and all the blessings we enjoy, and to whom we owe constant and fervent thanksgiving and praise. It is He who "visiteth the earth and watereth it;" who "setteth the furrows and blesseth the springings thereof;" who crowneth the year with his goodness, and whose paths drop fatness;" who "clothest the pastures with flocks, and coverest the valleys with corn; who maketh the out-goings of the morning and the evening to rejoice;" who is "our refuge and strength;" who "maketh war to cease," and "saveth us from our enimies;" whose "throne is forever and ever," and who "blesseth the nations whose God is the Lord."

On all sides we have increased assurances of the "loving kindness" of an All-wise Parent of Good, who has conducted our nation through a long and terrible war, and permitted our people to once more repose in safety, "without any to molest them or make them afraid." The monstrous sentiment of disunion is no longer tolerated. The Flag, the Union, and the Constitution are esteemed as the safeguards of the rights and liberties of the people, and are revered and defended as the ark of their political safety.

A kind Providence has not grown weary of supplying our continuous wants. A bounteous harvest has rewarded the labors of the husbandman. Flocks and herds are scattered in countless numbers over our valleys and hills. Commerce is uninterrupted, and vessels laden with the products of nature and of art, speed, unmolested, over the trackless deeps. Neither pestilence, famine, political or social evils, financial embarrassments or commercial distress, have been permitted to stay the progress and happiness of the people of this great Commonwealth; but peace, health, education, morality, religion, social improvement and refinement, with their attendant blessings, have filled the cup of comfort and enjoyment to overflowing.

Recognizing our responsibility to Him who controls the destinies of nations as well as of individuals, and "from whom cometh down every good and perfect gift," and to whom we are deeply indebted for all these and the richer blessings of our common Christianity, let us unitedly give our most devout gratitude and hearty thanksgiving.

I, therefore, do hereby recommend that THURSDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, be set apart as a day of praise and thanksgiving, that all secular and worldly business be supended, and the people assemble in their various places of worship to acknowledge their gratitude and offer up prayers for a continuance of Divine favor.

GIVEN under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this thirty-first day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-second.

JNO. W. GEARY.

United States vs. William Schofield: Indictment carrying on the business of retail dealer in the Allegheny market without a Government license. For the defense it was shown that the defendant was merely acting as salesman for his brother Joseph Schofield. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

United States vs. John B. Wright and George W. Walters; indictment passing and having in possession with intent to pass counterfeit ten dollar notes on First National Bank of Philadelphia. The prisoners were arrested a few weeks since at the Union Depot, in this city, on the authority of a telegraphic dispatch from Johnstown, where the parties were alleged to have passed a number of counterfeit notes. They were arrested in a sleeping car upon the arrival of the night train, and were taken to the lock-up. The officers making the arrest returned to the Union Depot, after having their prisoners secured, and on going back to the car found a package of twenty-four counterfeit ten dollar notes, which had evidently been thrown away. When the case was called up, Josiah Cohen, Esq., was specially admitted as counsel for the defendants. After they had been arraigned, John B. Wright plead guilty to the indictment. Walters plead not guilty, and was placed on trial. A number of witnesses from Johnstown were called and testified substantially to the facts previously reported in the case. The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

MONDAY, Nov. 4.—Court met at the usual hour, ten o'clock.

DIVORCE CASE.

Jane Stewart vs. John Stewart. Libel in divorce. The wife in her petition (presented January 2d, 1867,) set forth that she was united in marriage to John Stewart October 2d, 1850; that by his cruel and barbarous treatment he had endangered her life, by attacking her, pulling his hands full of hair out of her head, knocking her down with his fists, stamping on her with his knees when down, choking her until he left marks of his hands on her neck, beating her on her temples and face until she was black and blue, kicking her out of bed, threatening that he would follow her until death and when death did come it would be sweet to her, declaring that he would kill her; breaking the furniture, dishes, kettles, &c., burning and tearing her dresses and clothing, and accompanying the various acts with threats, and calling ill names; and further, being about out of her own separate funds to build a dwelling house in which to reside with her children, the respondent, although for seven years he had failed to provide the necessary food and clothing for her, threatened repeatedly that she should never go into, enter or live in said house; and further, that after these various threats, and before the completion of said house, it was set on fire and partially consumed. Petitioner therefore prayed that her husband be notified to appear and show cause why she should not be divorced and separated from the nuptial ties and bonds of matrimony with him. Mrs. Stewart resides in Birmingham.

To this petition John Stewart, the husband, April 11th, 1867, made answer, protesting that he had always conducted himself towards the libellant in such manner as he was bound to do as the husband of such a wife, and wholly denying all and every particular of abusive conduct on his part as set forth in the libel, and that he ever abused or beat libellant as therein set forth, or destroyed or injured her property—all of which he was ready to verify before a jury, and prayed that a jury might be called to inquire thereof.

After the examination of a number of witnesses, who proved pretty conclusively that much of the abusive conduct complained of had been truthfully represented by the libellant, the case was argued by J. H. Collier, Esq., for the wife, and by A. G. Cochran, Esq., for the husband. The jury, after brief deliberation, found in favor of Mrs. Stewart, thus granting her prayer for a divorce.

Matthew McClure vs. C. C. Atkinson. Action on a book account. Verdict for $144.19.

Charles Knap vs. William Phillips, Administrator of C. W. Ricketson, deceased. Amicable action in replevin for two acceptances of the plaintiff in the sum of $15,000. The papers were given to Mr. Ricketson, to negotiate, but he died having them in his possession. On trial.

Lawrenceville Council.

The Lawrenceville Council held a regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, November 4th.

Members present—Messrs. Anderson, Berger, Mesnor, Hart, Sill, Scott, Watson, and Burgess Buffum.

The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. Hart presented a petition from Thomas Jones, praying for a release from payment of paving tax, and that Council may take speedy measures to compensate him for the loss of a lot on which Valley street has been laid out. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Hart also presented a petition from owners of property fronting on Church street, between Davidson street and St. Mary's Cemetery Gate, praying for the passage of an ordinance for the grading and paving of the aforesaid portion of Church street, and to adopt such measures as will insure the completion of the work during the present season. The petition was accepted and an ordinance ordered to be drawn up for the grading and paving of said street.

A communication from J. M. Covert, Weighmaster, in regard to prices charged by him for weighing hay and coal, was read. Forty cents a ton, and thirty cents [illegible] less, was the scale fixed upon by a resolution of Council.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Finance Committee presented their report, and asked for warrants for the following accounts:

George Fichley, supt.	$ 53 00
James Irwin, Constable	60 00
J. Devlin, services	210 00
[illegible] Hoerr, spikes	5 31
[illegible] Knapp, hardware	6 95
[illegible] Rote, streets	510 00
Pittsburgh Post	153 00
Alex. McClintock	7 74
Wm. Jancey, Treasurer	362 00
Dickson, Marshall & Co., gutter and sewer repairs	159 98
Interest on Bond No. 34	84 00
Bond of Johanna Cushing and interest	535 00
Dickson, Marshall & Co., in Bonds	4,416 86

Warrants were ordered to be drawn for the above amounts.

The Finance Committee, in their report, ask that the Treasurer be directed to collect bill of filling G. S. Bates' lot, on Belfont street, amounting to $96, at once. They also recommend that the Treasurer be allowed $400 in addition to his regular salary, for extra services.

The report was accepted and recommendations adopted.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance for the grading, paving and setting of curb on Church street, from Davidson street to St. Mary's Cemetery gate, was read three times and passed.

Two ordinances, the first empowering the Crystal Water Company, of Lawrenceville, to lay water pipes in the borough, and the second, authorizing the Lawrenceville Gas Company to lay pipes, also, both companies to have the privilege of using all highways, streets, lanes and alleys; also providing that the borough shall have permission to subscribe a certain number of shares, were taken up.

Dr. Baily, originator of the two companies, being present, was asked for his views with regard to the matter. He had but little to say, save that the idea of procuring water and gas was one of vast importance to the borough. He was ready to answer any questions which might be asked by members of the Council.

Considerable discussion followed. When the ordinances had reached a final reading, the Burgess thought that Council was disposed to be hasty in its action. The question was pressed, however, and both ordinances were passed.

REPORT OF STREET COMMITTEE.

The report of the Street Committee was presented. The Committee say they have examined all the streets and alleys in the borough, and find them in as good condition as circumstances will admit. They award praise to the Street Commissioner, Conrad Rote. The report was accepted and filed.

Mr. Anderson offered the following:

Resolved, That the Ordinance Committee be directed to prepare an ordinance vacating Valley street, from Bellfont street to Mill street, Church street, St. Mary's avenue and Shoenberger street, from Washington street to the river.

There was some discussion on the above, from which it appeared that the vacation of the streets named is asked by the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, in order to afford them ground upon which to build a "round house," shops, &c. The matter was laid over for a special meeting of the Council to be held on Thursday night, when the President and others of the Railroad Company are invited to be present.

GUTTERS.

It was moved that the Street Commissioner be instructed to provide gutters on Calvin street, to prevent the flow of water into cellars of houses located on said street. Carried.

MOTIONS.

Mr. Sill moved that the Treasurer be instructed to hand over to the Borough Solicitor all assessments for paving of streets for immediate collection. Carried.

Mr. Sill also moved that bonds be issued in lieu of warrants. The motion was carried.

On motion of Mr. Sill, viewers were authorized to be appointed to view —— street on Scott's plan of lots.

Adjourned to meet on Thursday evening.

Presentation.—Saturday evening last was made the occasion by members of R. A. Lamberton Encampment for presenting to Patriarch W. F. Armstrong, as a token esteem, of a solid gold ring, with the "three links" raised thereon, handsomely gotten up by Messrs. Wattles & Sheafer, Fifth street jewelers. Jacob H. Walters, Esq., made the presentation speech, expressing in fitting terms the object of the gift, and Mr. Armstrong replied in his own behalf.

Disorderly "Bear."—Frederick Kreaton yesterday made information, before Alderman Butler, against John Bear, for surety of the peace. The parties reside in the Eighth ward, and it appears that they had a difficulty, when Bear threatened to whip the prosecutor. Bear was arrested and, after a hearing, was committed to jail, in default of $300 bail, for his appearance at Court.

Surety of the Peace.—Clara Walton yesterday made information before Alderman Strain, against Elizabeth Kershner, for surety of the peace. The parties reside in Mansfield, in the locality designated as "Whisky Row." Mrs. Walton alleges that the defendant used insulting and abusive language toward her. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

Bail Piece.—William Payne, indicted at the recent session of the Grand Jury for aggravated assault and battery, and released on bail for his appearance at court, was yesterday arrested on a bail piece, and committed for trial, at the instance of John Hughes, who was bound for his appearance.

The Concert for the benefit of the Hebrew Benevolent Association last night was largely attended, and the entertainment offered was of the highest character. We hope the funds realized reached the amount expected by the charitable projectors, and those who took part in the Concert.

Argument List.—Judges Sterrett and Stowe, of the Common Pleas, were sitting yesterday, disposing of the Argument List.

Gold opened at 140⅜, declined to 140, and market quiet until after 2 p. m., when some European news came in, showing the probability of war between Prussia and France, in consequence, gold jumped to 141⅜, but closed at 140⅜. Should war actually be declared in Europe, then gold is likely to jump up, though the United States Treasury is disbursing large amounts between this and January next. The condition of the market favors a rise, however numerous the bear speculators may be.

Government bonds did not respond to the decline in gold this morning, but on the contrary declined from ½ to ¾ per cent. at the second board.

The stock market is decidedly lower, and is almost panic, like fancy stocks, alike with the 10 per cent. stock declined.

The local money market is still very stringent.

Closing New York quotations received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

—How the abundance of money in England makes people poor is a paradox easily explained. The London Star says:

"There can, unhappily be no doubt that the London wholesale houses for all descriptions of retail goods are unprecedentaly idle, and that implies some great impediment to the free circulation of money among the community. Nor need we wonder at such a state of things when we look to the condition of the money market, and find capital going begging for borrowers at 1 and 1½ per cent. per annum. To the man with £10,000 who was accustomed to lend out his money at short intervals for commercial purposes, and who could count upon, say 5 per cent, in ordinary times, this means a reduction from an income of £500, from the turn over of his money, to one of £150 or £200 at the most. Others again depend for their incomes upon dividends from railways or public companies, which have either not paid or have been greatly reduced, while the capital, which was probably invested when the shares were at a high figure, has so depreciated as to make it impossible to sell out without a sacrifice of one-half of the property."

—The Financial Chronicle speaks of the general disappointment of city merchants at the result of the fall business. During the last five or six weeks the transactions have declined very perceptibly; the second purchases of traders from the interior have been light; the Southern demand has fallen much below expectations, and the near-by and city trade demand has proved a failure. In its commercial articles, the Chronicle says that the "prices of merchandise have declined much more than gold in the past two years, and there is a disposition to now look for a corresponding fall in gold rather than a reaction in merchandise; a fact which causes buyers to purchase only to supply immediate wants." It is a fact of which there are constantly new proofs that, until the monetary basis of our commercial transactions is specie, the fixed and universal standard of value throughout the world, there will be constant uncertainty in all branches of business, and in all the industries of the country.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 4, 1867.

CATTLE.

There was again a very full supply of cattle on sale to day, and the great proportion of the offerings were of an inferior quality. As a consequence, common and inferior grades were exceedingly dull and heavy, while good fat cattle, such as our best butchers are in the habit of buying, sold readily at full prices. The former may be quoted at 3 to 5c, and the latter at 6½ to 7½c, and these may be regarded as the extremes of the market, for the class of stock above referred to. The number of cattle on sale to-day was rather larger than for some weeks past, reaching in the aggregate, at least twelve hundred head; and notwithstanding the market was a pretty hard one, there were but few left over unsold, and, as already stated, good cattle were in good demand, and brought full prices, while common and inferior were almost unsaleable. The following sales were reported:

Glass, Lafferty & Co. had 150 head on sale—sold about 80 head at 3¼@5¾. Kerwin sold 35 head of Belmont county, Ohio cattle, for Wiseman at 5 to 7.

A. Cunningham reports having retailed 15 head at 5¼@6¾. L. Rothchilds, 36 head at 5¼@7¼—3 left over. J. Shamberg, 21 at 4¼@6¾. Rothchilds & Byers, 46 at 6@6¾.

M. Verner sold 16 head Washington county cattle at 4@6; 29 head of Ohio stock for Chryst at 5@7; and 9 for Ross at 5@6¾. C. Hartman sold 35 Washington county cattle at 5@6¾.

Myers & Needy, 20 head Washington county cattle at 5 to 7; 34 head from Chicago, for H. A. Merrick, at 4¾ to 6; and 58 head of Western cattle, on their own account, at 4 to 6. Andrews had 26 head Washington county stock—sold 9 at 5@6¾.

Marks & Traurman sold 36 head Washington county cattle at 6 to 7½; 42 from Ohio at 4¾@6; and 18 head on commission, for Gibson, at an average of 5. McAllister reports having sold 18 head for Hanlon at 4¾ to 7. A. Porter had 18 head—sold 6 at 6; balance left over.

Gordon & Rathburn had 53 head—sold 15 at $57½ per springers, and 6¼c per pound for balance.

L. Shamberg sold 36 head at 4¾ to 6¾. N. Carr reports having sold 20 head for Dickerson at 5 to 6¾; and 10 head for another party at 4 to 6.

Hazlewood & Co. sold 34 head of Kentucky stock at 5 to 7¾; and 20 head on commission at 5 to 6.90.

Greenwald & Kahn report having sold 72 head of good to prime Ohio steers and heifers at 6¼ to 7; and 28 head scalawags at 3¼ to 4¾. Rinn & Co. had 28 head on sale—sold 5 head at 6¾ to 7.

W. D. Clutter had 42 head of Green county, Pa., cattle—sold 14 at 6½ to 7; and 2 fresh cows at $150 for the two. Keith sold 41 head of Allen county, Ohio, cattle to Marks & Traurman at $675 for the lot.

Turner & McGregor sold 15 head good Ohio cattle to Rothchilds at 6, and 2 bulls to another party at 3.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was a very full supply of Sheep on sale to-day, the pens being all full, and with no corresponding improvement in the demand, the market was an exceedingly hard one for holders, and the commoner grades ruled even lower than last week. There was one Philadelphia buyer in attendance, H. Deitrich, but he could not get the quality he wanted at his price, and, as a consequence, he went as he came, empty handed. As in the case of cattle, the offerings were mainly of an inferior grade.

Adam Eckert reports having sold 100 head Sheep at $2,50 to $4,25 per head, and 37 Lambs at $1,62 to $2,75.

Wm. Fowler had in all 315 head, which he sold at $1,50 to $4 per head for Sheep, and $1,37 to $3,50 for Lambs.

John Young sold 50 head of Butler county Sheep at $2.25 per head, and William Young sold 113 head of Lawrence county Sheep at $3.37 per head.

John Watters sold 80 head of Sheep at $2,25 to $4 per head. Hoagland sold 40 Lambs at $1.37 per head.

John Finley sold 63 head Lambs at $2 per head. Shaw sold about 100 head Sheep at $1,30 per head.

Garvin had 200 head pretty good looking Sheep for which $3 per head was the best offer he could get. McKee had 80 unsold.

HOGS.

There was a very good demand for Hogs today, and while the supply was fair, the market was firm, and prices were well sustained, though not quotably higher, compared with last week. One of our packing houses, Messrs. Hanna & Co., had a representative in the yards who bought several bunches, the first taken for that purpose this season.

Gibson sold 103 head, averaging 225 lbs, to Hanna & Co. at 6¾. Emerick & Co. sold 138 to Hanna & Co. at 6.85.

Cunningham sold 15 head to Emerick & Co. at 6½, and Emerick & Co. report having retailed about 15 at 6¾ to 7½.

Rothchilds & Byers report having retailed about 20 head at 7 to 7¼.

New York Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The receipts at the Cattle market were 6,100 Beeves, 32,386 Sheep and Lambs, 38,672 Hogs. There prevailed a fair demand for Beef Cattle, and as offerings were light, holders succeeded in obtaining an advance of about ½c per lb. more, especially on the better grades. About 16,000 head was the number on sale. The following prices were realized: 16½@17c for extra; 16@16½c for prime; 15@15½c for first quality; 14@14½c for fair to good, and 9@13½c for inferior to ordinary. The market for Sheep and Lambs exhibited a fair degree of activity on account of heavy offerings, comprising about 5300 head. However, prices were heavy, particularly for common stock. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 4, 1867.

The general markets present no new characteristics worthy of special notice. As the demand for the leading commodities is restricted almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of the home trade, we have but few round lot operations to record, while prices, as a general thing thing, have undergone no quotable change.

GRAIN—Wheat is in limited supply and firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at $2,28@2,30 for No. 1 Spring; $2,55@2,60 for prime Red Winter; and $2,70@2,75 for prime White. Oats quiet and unchanged; sales at 65@66c on track, and 68@70c in store. Barley is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $1,30 in first hands, and $1,35 in second. PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 4, 1867.

CRUDE—There was a panicky feeling in the crude market to-day, owing to the continued favorable prospects for an early resumption of navigation, and the very unfavorable reports from the east. The sales, however, were unusually large, reaching thirty-two thousand barrels, but prices are fully one-half to one cent. per gallon lower, as will be seen by the following: 1500 bbls for all 1867, seller's option, at 9c; 2500 do do at 9; 5000, second water, at 9c; 5000 for 1867, at 9c; 3000 for all November, seller's option, at 10c; 3000 do do at 9½c; and 2000 for all the year, at 8½c. Telegrams from Oil City quoted market dull at $3,00 per barrel.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was very dull to-day, and as buyers and sellers were apart in their views, there was but comparatively little done. We can report 500 bbls for immediate delivery in Philadelphia at 29; 1000 for all the month, seller's option, at 30c, and 500 immediate, on private terms. Quotations may be fairly given at 29@30c, on spot; 30 for all the month, seller's option, and 31c, buyer's option; and 31c for all December. The decline here may be attributed to the decline in Antwerp, as well as the improved prospects of an early resumption of navigation.

RIVER NEWS.

[By Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company.]

BROWNSVILLE, November 4.—River fell three inches to-day. Seven feet nine inches of water in the channel. Weather cloudy.

The river remained at a stand nearly all day yesterday, with scant four feet in the channel by the pier marks last evening. It is altogether likely that the rain on Sunday, which seems to have been general, will cause another rise, and we should not be surprised to find a swell of several inches to-day. The weather yesterday was raw and unsettled, with a slight sprinkling of rain at intervals.

The main landing presented quite an animated appearance yesterday, several boats being busily engaged in taking on freight, and it is probable that there will be a still further improvement to-day.

The new Parkersburg packet J. N. McCullough, got off yesterday on her first trip, with a good freight list and a fair number of passengers. The McCullough will prove a splendid acquisition to the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade.

The Rapidan No. 2, a new boat, intended, we believe, for the Tennessee river trade, arrived from Brownsville yesterday. She is a very neat and substantial looking craft, and we have no doubt, is well adapted for the trade for which she is intended.

The Leni Leoti, Capt. Hamilton, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon. The Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan, is the regular Wednesday packet, leaving at the same hour.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Glendale, Captain Harel will leave for St. Louis and all intermediate points this afternoon without fail. The Glendale is one of the best boats in the trade, is in charge of experienced officers, and has superior accommodations for passengers. The veteran Capt. Jas. Mellon still retains charge of the office.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, will commence loading for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day, and she will be ready to leave on Wednesday or Thursday.

The indications for a coalboat rise are not very encouraging at present, but we are in hopes that there will be an abundance of water for our freight and passenger steamers.

The Leclaire, Capt. Saint, is the regular packet for Portsmouth to-day, and passengers and shippers can rely on her leaving promptly as advertised. She is an excellent craft, is of light draft, and will make her trips with regularity and dispatch.

The Dubuque Herald says: Capt. Buford is here and has, it is reported, sold the Northern Line packet Petrel to the Illinois Central Railroad Company for $17,000. She will be used in the transfer business, towing barges. The strike on the Itasca Tuesday was of short duration—the men's places were filled immediately with new hands, and the boat departed with a full force.

The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, is responsible for the following:

Capt. Bill Kountz, of Pittsburgh, has contracted for a mountain boat which will carry forty tons more than the Ida Stockdale on the same water. This is extraordinary; but then, Bill is no ordinary man. He will have the new boat ready in good time for the voyage to Benton next spring, with a good prospect of realizing some $50,000 from an investment of perhaps $15,000. Captain Bill has been successful man. He went out of the big City of Memphis, some years ago, with one hundred thousand dollars. He owns one-third each of two steamers that made this year singularly fortunate and lucrative trips in the mountain trade, which must have netted him about $40,000. He owns seven miles of the horse railroads in Pittsburgh, and runs a coal bank. Captain Bill ran for Congress, but we believe he never reached the goal of his ambition. When running steamboats in the St. Louis and New Orleans trade it can hardly be said he was personally popular; but what of that? He always new what he was about, and never failed to make money with his steamboats.

The St. Louis Republican, of Friday, has the following:

Mr. C. M. Noble, who was pilot of the Nymph No. 2 at the time of the disaster reported a few days since, furnishes the following particulars: The boat had been on a bar, five miles this side of Brownsville, for several hours, but had been worked off, and was at anchor when the explosion took place. The Captain told the firemen, who had charge of the boilers while the engineer was repairing something about the engine, not to allow the steam to get above fifty pounds. The firemen says he looked at the guage but a few moments before the explosion, and steam was not above fifty. The probability is, that the firemen was mistaken. The boat took fire several times after the disaster, but was only slightly damaged. The safe was blown into the river; it has not been recovered, and probably never will. It contained about $1,000, and the boat's papers. Capt. Giles was slightly injured. The pilot received several severe, though not dangerous wounds. He was saved by a pair of platform scales from being crushed by a smokestack. A colored man had his leg broken and thigh dislocated. It is a little singular that out of thirty men, none were killed. The hull of the boat was saved. It was the middle boiler that exploded. The jar was so great that it broke out window lights a distance of two miles.

The officers and crew, being left penniless, were handsomely treated by the citizens of Brownsville, and hereby tender their thanks. Also, to the officers and crew of the steamer Colorado.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

CONSUMPTION.

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day of night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs of symptoms elicited in this way are almost sure to demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflamatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn-out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and disease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good to nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE OF PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in its proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 18 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment. GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunk, en away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM, Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and now there is no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON, Alderman Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some 23 years of age was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.
